

Retail Non-
Food

BRAMIDAN®

Space is essential

Retail non-food businesses concentrate on customers and sales areas. Therefore an efficient waste handling in the goods reception area is essential to free up space and time for selling.

In the retail business, sales space and speed is everything. Goods arrive 2-3 times a week, well protected by cardboard or soft plastic, before being unpacked and moved into the sales area as quickly as possible. Square metres are expensive, and owners want to use as much space as possible to present the goods to their customers.

Warehouse space is restricted and unpacking often takes place in back rooms or hallways, with varying degrees of internal traffic that does not need to be blocked by waste on the floor. Without efficient waste handling, loose cardboard and plastic quickly gets in the way and slows down internal processes.

By installing a compact baler inside the building, close to the source of the waste, employees can dispose of the empty packaging waste instantly and safely, without leaving the premises.

Highly compacted bales free up space

In our experience a thorough check of how waste is handled most often reveals that considerable cost savings are within reach. Compacting cardboard boxes, soft plastic and other recyclable materials into high-density bales frees up space inside your warehouse and reduces handling costs significantly.

Our baler solutions are ideal for retail non-food businesses of any size. Whether you own a small shop, a large DIY market or home appliance store, the ability to swiftly deal with loose waste improves both efficiency and safety.

Simplify your internal logistics

When your staff compact waste, they create more floor space and achieve a smoother workflow.

We can help you choose the right baler solution, so you will not only experience better internal logistics, but also increased revenues on recyclable materials.

Business advantages

- Faster flow between delivery and shop area
- Reduce total waste handling costs
- Better internal logistics
- More free space
